Executive Proclamation
State of South Dakota
Office of the Governor

Whereas, South Dakota was founded on hard work, perseverance, dedication to duty and concern for one's fellow man; and,

Whereas, Carol Stuart has been on faculty at the University of South Dakota, Department of Nursing, for eight years, has served as Executive Director of the South Dakota Board of Nursing, and has worked in the nursing field for forty-two years; and,

Whereas, Carol is well known for her involvement in professional nursing activities within the state of South Dakota, the National Council of State Boards of Nursing, her community, and health care delivery settings; and,

Whereas, May 5 is the beginning of Nurses' Week, and Carol has been an inspiration to both students and faculty at the University of South Dakota; and,

Whereas, Carol has devoted her life to the betterment of her professional community, the caring and sharing with family and friends and the day-to-day giving and loving that makes South Dakota a great state in which to live and work; and,

Whereas, Carol is retiring from the University of South Dakota, Department of Nursing, but will remain as Professor Emeritus following her retirement; and,

Whereas, It has now come time for Carol Stuart to retire in Alcester, South Dakota, with her husband, Bob, of 40 years, to spend time at home, to visit her son, David, and his wife, Teresa; her daughter, Lisa, and her husband, Harry, and to travel to North Carolina, New Hampshire, and California; and,

Whereas, It is altogether fitting and proper to recognize the contribution and devotion of this employee and her many years of exemplary performance:

Now, Therefore, I, M. Michael Rounds, Governor of the state of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim Monday, May 5, 2003, as in South Dakota, and I join her colleagues, friends and family as they recognize Carol for her commitment to a successful career.

CAROL STUART DAY

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the state of South Dakota, in Pierre, the Capital City, this Twenty-first Day of April in the Year of Our Lord, Two Thousand and Three.

M. Michael Rounds, Governor

Attest:

Chris Nelson, Secretary of State